

Blessed Tomorrow Climate Ambassador Agreement

As a Blessed Tomorrow Ambassador, I will help people to understand the links between climate and health, the spectrum and benefits of climate solutions, and opportunities to act and advocate. I am empowered to inspire my colleagues, associations, the public, and policymakers on climate solutions that help protect the health of our families and communities now, and ensure a prosperous, just, and secure future.

To help facilitate Ambassador opportunities, Blessed Tomorrow will:

1. Provide the slides from this training, and a one-hour version of the Blessed Tomorrow Ambassadors Training, inclusive of talking points and citations, for me to use in presentations, along with other supplemental resources and handouts.
2. Host regular calls for all the Blessed Tomorrow Ambassadors.
3. Invite you into a private online community of sharing and collaboration.
4. Provide program updates via email and newsletter.
5. Provide access to an online repository of resources.
6. Offer customizable promotional materials to use in soliciting presentation opportunities.
7. Send me prospective opportunities to present to my local community, from interest expressed via the Blessed Tomorrow and partners websites.

As a Blessed Tomorrow Ambassador, I agree to:

1. PRESENTATIONS: Give at least 3 Blessed Tomorrow presentations per year - ideally for groups of 15 people or more - using the presentation materials, talking points, and other resources provided to me by Blessed Tomorrow via the Creative Commons 4.0 license of the materials. I will work to secure these speaking engagements (which can include presentations in existing forums like professional meetings or conferences, college courses, local environmental advocacy groups, etc.), and will also consider requests that come to me from Blessed Tomorrow and/or my faith organization.
2. ADVOCACY: Take at least 2 actions to advocate for climate solutions per year. These can include actions offered by Blessed Tomorrow or another organization, including:
 - A. Sign on to a letter supporting climate solutions from my faith organization or other organizing body;

- B. Submit an Op Ed (Opposite the Editorial page) or LTE (Letter to the Editor) to a newspaper or periodical of record;
 - C. Call or visit my local, state, or national representative(s) to let them know I support equitable climate solutions that protect human health and well-being;
 - D. Publish a blog post or thought piece encouraging people of faith to act on climate solutions on the website of my congregation or other affiliated organizations;
 - E. Attend a local, state, or national candidate forum to raise climate action as a priority;
 - F. Participate in an advocacy action that arises in my state, city, and profession.
3. Allow Blessed Tomorrow and my faith organization (through which I received this training) to publicly list my name, title, affiliation(s), city, state, and speaking availability as a Blessed Tomorrow Ambassador on their websites. I will also add the Blessed Tomorrow Ambassador designation to my public profiles. I will provide contact information to program administrators to help connect me with presentation requests.
4. As much as I am able, prioritize voting in primary and general elections at all levels of government, and help others register to vote and get to the polls on election day.
5. Report to Blessed Tomorrow about the presentations I give and advocacy actions I take.
6. Support policies that align with the Blessed Tomorrow Path to Positive Vision and Principles. Specific political candidate or party endorsement is not permitted using your Blessed Tomorrow designation, although you may support candidates or parties as an individual voter.
7. All actions taken as an Ambassador will be conducted voluntarily (stipends for your time or honoraria are allowed) and offer the Blessed Tomorrow presentations at no charge to audiences.
